This overlay map only affects you if your property is below 20m AHD, and you wish to develop (e.g., build or extend, change use, subdivide, clear native vegetation, fill or excavate).

This map shows land that is at or below 5m AHD and land between 5m and 20m AHD. These are locations where acid sulfate soils may occur. AHD is the Australian Height Datum, which is the altitude or elevation of the land.

Exclusion on the map does not necessarily mean there are associated requirements.

Refer to the relevant zone code, local plan code section development codes for requirements associated with this overlay map.

For further information regarding the overlay map, please refer to the Overlay information sheet on Council’s planning scheme website (www.moretonbay.qld.gov.au) or contact an accredited surveyor.

This overlay map is produced on a scale of 1:15,000 using the Geocentric Datum of Australia 1994 (GDA94) Horizontal Datum, and Map Grid of Australia, Zone 56. If you require a different scale or projection, please contact Council. The map is subject to review and revision.

Please note: Do Not Print using "Page Scaling: Fit to Printable Area", this will distort the scale of the map and impacts quality of text and linework. Please print using setup of A3 paper size and Landscape orientation, with "Page Scaling: None", and you will not see this message.

Please note: Do Not Print using "Page Scaling: Fit to Printable Area", this will distort the scale of the map and impacts quality of text and linework. Please print using setup of A3 paper size and Landscape orientation, with "Page Scaling: None", and you will not see this message.
This overlay map only affects you if your property is below 20 m AHD, and you wish to develop (e.g. build or extend, change use, subdivisions, clear native vegetation, fill or excavate).

This overlay map shows land that is at or below 5 m AHD and land between 5 m and 20 m AHD. These are locations where acid sulfate soils are likely to be present. This is in addition to land below 20 m AHD in current or future Regional Planning Scheme Areas where development may impact the land.

Potential Acid Sulfate Soils
