Adoption

MBRC adopted this planning scheme policy on 24 November 2015.

Commencement

This planning scheme policy will take effect from 1 February 2016.

Amendment

Alignment amendment 1 2017

- Adopted by Moreton Bay Regional Council on 27 June 2017
- Took effect from 3 July 2017

Major amendment 1 2019

- Adopted by Moreton Bay Regional Council on 12 December 2019
- Took effect from 29 January 2020.

1. Introduction

This policy supports the Moreton Bay Regional Council Planning Scheme and has been made by Council in accordance with Chapter 2, Part 3, Division 2 of the Planning Act 2016.

1.1 Purpose

The purpose of this planning scheme policy is to:

- identify the information requirements for preparing a Cultural heritage impact assessment report and Cultural heritage conservation management plan;
- identify the information requirements for preparing a tree assessment report;
- list the sites, items, objects and buildings of cultural heritage significance for the Region (see Appendix 1 - List of sites, objects and buildings of significant historical and cultural value in this policy);
- list the significant trees for the Region (see Appendix 2 – List of significant trees in this policy).

Where the information required by this policy is not supplied when the development application is made, they will be the subject of an information request under the development assessment system.

The Moreton Bay Regional Council Planning Scheme and this planning scheme policy (Heritage and landscape character) do not apply to:

- aboriginal cultural heritage which is protected under the Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Act 2003 and which is subject to a cultural heritage duty of care; or
- State heritage places or other areas which are protected under the Queensland Heritage Act 1992.

1.2 Application

This planning scheme policy applies to development applications for material change of use, reconfiguring a lot or operational works on a lot identified on Overlay map – Heritage and landscape character.

1.3 Interpretation

Terms used in this planning scheme policy are defined in Schedule 1 – Definitions of the planning scheme. Where a term is not defined in Schedule 1, section 1.3 Interpretation of the planning scheme applies.

For the ease of interpreting this planning scheme policy, the following terms and meanings are reproduced from Schedule 1.

Maintenance	For the purpose of cultural heritage values, maintenance means the continuous protective care of the fabric and setting of a place, and is to be distinguished from repair. Repair involves restoration or reconstruction. Fabric means all the physical material of the place including components, fixtures, contents and objects. Place means site, area, land, landscape, item, building or other work, group of buildings or other works, and may include components, contents, spaces and views.

Preservation	For the purpose of cultural heritage values, preservation means maintaining the fabric of a place in its existing state and retarding deterioration. Note - the source of this definition is the Australia ICOMOS Charter for Places of Cultural Significance.
Reconstruction	For the purpose of cultural heritage values, reconstruction means returning a place to a known earlier state and is distinguished from restoration by the introduction of new material into the fabric. Note - the source of this definition is the Australia ICOMOS Charter for Places of Cultural Significance.
Restoration	For the purpose of cultural heritage values, restoration means returning the existing fabric of a place to a known earlier state by removing accretions or reassembling existing components without the introduction of new material. Note - the source of this definition is the Australia ICOMOS Charter for Places of Cultural Significance.

2. Information requirements for a Cultural heritage impact assessment report and Cultural heritage conservation management plan

2.1 Cultural heritage impact assessment report

The purpose of a Cultural heritage impact assessment report is to identify the nature and extent of proposed development and how development will impact (both positively and negatively) on the cultural heritage significance and values associated with the listed place, object and building.

A Cultural heritage impact assessment report is to be prepared by a suitably qualified person and in accordance with the Burra Charter (Australian ICOMOS Charter of Places for Cultural Heritage Significance) and associated guideline.

A Cultural heritage impact assessment report is to include the following:

- a. a description of the history and context of the place, object or building to confirm understanding of the cultural heritage values associated with the listed place, object and building;
- b. a description of the cultural heritage values and significance associated with the listed place, object and building. This is to include photographs, drawings, map and records where available to assist in determining significance;
- c. a description of the proposed development to be undertaken identifying the nature and extent of works that are likely to or actually will impact on the cultural heritage values associated with the listed place, object and building;
- d. an assessment of the impact (both positive and negative) of the proposed development on the cultural heritage significance and values associated with the listed place, object and building including:
 - i. a description of how the development proposal will impact on the qualities and values associated with the listed place, object and building;
 - ii. a description of how the fabric of the significant place is impacted upon, and the impact on the relationship of the significant place to adjoining properties and wider area;
 - iii. a description of the works and measures to be undertaken to:
 - I. protect and preserve cultural heritage values;
 - II. compensate for any loss of cultural heritage values associated with listed place, object and building;
 - iv. a list of author/s, including qualifications and the date of the assessment.
- e. a description of any consultation undertaken with the State government, Council or other interested parties.

2.2 Cultural heritage conservation management plan

The purpose of a Cultural heritage conservation management plan is to identify the measures to be included in a development proposal to address any adverse impacts identified in a Cultural heritage impact assessment report. This is to ensure that development will not cause irreversible damage to the cultural heritage values associated with the listed place, object and building. Further, the Cultural heritage conservation management plan will need to identify how development will go to protect and preserve cultural heritage values associated with the listed place, object and building.

A Cultural heritage conservation management plan is to be prepared by a suitably qualified person and in accordance with the Burra Charter (Australian ICOMOS Charter of Places for Cultural Heritage Significance) and associated guideline.

In addition to the above, a Cultural heritage conservation management plan is to include the following:

- a. a contextual history of the place, object and building;
- b. a description of the cultural heritage values and significance associated with the listed place, object and building;
- c. a description of the proposed development identifying the nature and extent of works that are likely or actually to impact on the cultural heritage values associated with the listed place, object and building;
- d. a description of the conservation constraints present and the impacts these will have on owners and users;
- e. a description of the conservation measures and management policies to be undertaken to maintain and ensure the protection of cultural heritage values and significance associated with the listed place, object and building;
- f. a description of measures to compensate for any loss of cultural heritage values associated with listed place, object and building;
- g. an implementation plan identifying priorities, resources, timing, monitoring and review;
- h. a list of author/s, including qualifications and the date of the management plan.

3. Information requirements for a Tree assessment report

The purpose of a Tree assessment report is to demonstrate how development will not detrimentally impact upon the health, wellbeing and vitality of listed significant trees.

A Tree assessment report is to be prepared by a suitably qualified arborist and in accordance with Australian Standard AS 4970-2009 Protection of trees on development sites.

A tree assessment report is to include the following:

- a. identify the property address, significant tree identifier number and species of significant tree or trees tree. This information is found in Schedule 2 - List of significant trees of this policy;
- b. provide a site plan identifying the location of the listed significant tree or trees;
- c. a description of the current health, wellbeing and vitality of the significant tree or trees, including the height, canopy spread, and trunk diameter. Photographs of the tree are to be provided;
- d. a description of the proposed works to be undertaken in the vicinity of the significant tree or trees;
- e. a description of the possible impacts proposed works may have on the significant tree or trees;
- f. identify the design and construction measures and methods proposed as part of the proposed works to minimise impact on the health, wellbeing and vitality of the significant tree or trees;
- g. consideration of other relevant matters such as, but not limited to:
 - i. location and distribution of roots;
 - ii. potential loss of limb and root mass;
 - iii. tree species and tolerance to root or limb loss and root disturbance;
 - iv. age, vigour and size of tree;
 - v. lean and stability;
 - vi. soil characteristics and volume, topography and drainage;
 - vii. design factors and tree sensitive construction measures;
 - viii. use and adoption of trunk, branch, ground and root protection measures as identified in Australian standard AS4970-2009.
